Plastic in Our Oceans
Plastic is used everywhere because it is cheap and strong. However, this is also a big problem for the ocean. Every year, millions of tons of plastic go into the sea. Plastic doesn't disappear easily. It can stay in the water for hundreds of years. Sea animals are hurt by it, too. For example, sea turtles sometimes eat plastic bags because the bags look like jellyfish. What can we do? We can bring our own bags and bottles when we go shopping. We can also recycle the plastic that we use. Small actions like these can make our oceans cleaner.
